FINE PERFORMANCE OF RACHMANINOFF SYMPHONY GIVEN

Damrosch Orchestra, Assisted by Kochanski, Heard at National.

Program.
Symphony No. 2 in E minor—Rachmaninoff I. Largo. Allegro moderato.
II. Allegro molto.
III. Adagio.
IV. Allegro vivace.
Concert in D for Violin with Orchestra Tchaikovsky
I. Allegro moderato.
II. Canzonetta. Andante.
III. Finale: Allegro vivacissimo.
MR. KOCHANSKI.

The New York Symphony Orchestra made its initial appearance for this season at the National Theater, Tuesday afternoon, with Mr. Walter Damrosch conducting.
If we are not mistaken, this is the first time Rachmaninoff's Symphony No. 2, E minor, has been played in Washington. It is a great opportunity for the strings; they take the lead with a charming melodie recures frequently throughout the various movements and is never allowed to quite finish before the woodwinds or brasses interrupt with a more martial strain.
We have never heard the New York Symphony strings do better work. The tone was fine, the ensemble exact, and the phrasing good. The brasses have been criticized for stridency before; they had infrequent opportunity to exhibit this quality in this particular symphony, but when they had they earned their salaries.

The symphony as a whole has much beauty of a melodic and poetic quality. There are times when insistent repetition of un-beautiful phrases detract from the interest, and there are reminis-cences of Wagner that do not seem related, but as a whole it has charm worthy of its great composer.
Washington claims to have discovered Paul Kochanski, violinist, who appeared with the orchestra, and played Tchaikowski's Concerto in D. Critics have not decided just how to classify Kochanski, but they all agree that he is a very great artist, if not a greatest. His very remarkable technique is best described as facile; his tone is remarkable for fullness and beauty, and his absolute musical poise gives a comfortable feeling of confidence in his ability. There were times when he produced the effect of playing a viola second to his own violin. The audience enthusiastically recalled him a number of times.

Gunman of Old Wild West Days Dies at His Desk

Bat Masterson, Sports Writer, Was Credited
With Killing 28.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Bat Masterson, credited with having killed twenty-eight men in his time, died at a desk in the famous "old car-nary" office of the New York Morning Telegraph, of which he was sports editor in his last years, writing a story.
William Barclay Masterson began his career as a gun fighter at the age of 20 in a town called Adobe Walls, somewhere in the Western desert, by killing a man in a poker argument. They took the body outside and the poker game went on.
The men rolled up in the blankets when second in command of a department in time to intercept a band of 200 Indians, led by a negro deserter from the United States cavalry, bent on massacre.

Killed Negro Leader.
Masterson and his friends began firing and this aroused the other men of the town, preventing a surprise. For fourteen days the Indians, led by the negro ex-cavalryman, continued to attack the town.
On the fourteenth day Masterson himself killed the negro and the slaves abated.
Gen. Nelson A. Miles, famous Indian fighter, heard of Masterson's conduct in the long battle and made him second in command of a department of eighteen scouts. Later he became sheriff of Dodge City, formerly Fort Dodge, Kans., and in subsequent years he drifted to Trinidad and Denver as sheriff. Although he was required to kill men to maintain the peace during his terms as sheriff, Bat Masterson, during all his fifteen years on Broadway, was reticent about the shootings, except the incident in which he hunted down and killed four drunken cowboys in Dodge City between sunset and sunrise, avenging the killing of his brother by one of them.

But was one of the last survivors of the old West, but he never capitalized his past—never became a circus plainman. He had counted Theodore Roosevelt among his personal friends.

In his sporting comment here Masterson was always lambasting prize fighters, for whom, as a class, he had no great admiration. He was a familiar figure for years, however, at the ring-side in Madison Square Garden.

Bond Selling Affects
Government Issues
NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The upturn in Liberty 3½ yesterday, which did not last until the close, was followed by selling which affected nearly all the government war issues today.
First and second 4½ each declined ¼ point, but losses in the others were smaller. While losses in that department were scarcely more than enough to designate a definite trend, foreign government issues, with few exceptions, moved fractionally higher.
There was good buying of Belgian 4s at prices ranging up to ½ point above the Monday closing level, and Swiss 5s were more active on their advance of a full point to 109.
The published reports tending to show why loan negotiations with the Belgian government were unsuccessful resulted in small calling of Mexican issues, especially the 5s, which declined 1½ points to 49½.
Railroad and industrial bonds were active and steady changes, wherever recorded, being toward slightly higher prices. Cuban Cane, Sugar 7½ sold off ¼ point to 57½. Southern Railway 5s went up ¼ to 88. One wa-ceptior to the general firmness of the rails was seen in the loss of ¼ point in Pennsylvania 5s. Other bonds of this system moved with the market in general.

Mrs. Jones Gets Divorce.
ROCKVILLE, Md., Oct. 25.—In the Circuit Court here Judge Edward C.
Peterson has granted Mrs. Bertha O.
Burdette Jones, of this county, an absolute divorce from Edgar K. Jones, whose present place of residence, according to the bill, is unknown. The bill set forth that the couple were married in Frederick, Md., on January 1, 1916, and that the plaintiff was deserted more than three years ago.
Mrs. Jones was represented by Albert M. Bouie, this city.

"Watch carefully your daughter's physical development. Mothers should keep their daughters well informed as to matters pertaining to health, and should see that nature is assisted, if necessary, to perform its offices."

Kidney and Bladder
Troubles HAVE TO GO Clogged up Kidney Deposits are Dissolved and the Toxins (Poi-

Druggists Told to Guarantee it in Every Instance.

"Your very life," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys so whatever you do don't neglect them." Dr. Carey's famous prescription No.
777 known as "Masterson" is not recommended for everything, but we cannot too strongly urge its use if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequent passing of water night and day, with burning or irritation, brick dust discharge or highly colored urine, bloating irritability with loss of flesh, backache, headaches, or any other ailment.
Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Gravel, for kidney disease in its worst form may be stealing your life.
Don't wait until tomorrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription now obtainable in both liquid and tablet form if you have any of the above symptoms. Kidney and bladder troubles don't wear away. They will grow upon you slowly, steadily and with untold certainty.
Never mind the failures of the past if you even suspect that you are subject to Kidney Disease. Don't lose a single day for Peoples' Drug Stores and every good druggist has been authorized to return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they have received no benefit.—Adv.

U. S. MUST YIELD OR FIGHT JAPAN, OBSERVER SAYS

Declares Only War Can Make Open Door a Reality.

dent of the only real republic in China, told me he thought the Washington conference would lead to war. The only way out, he said, was for America and the other powers to recognize his government in China and let him deal with the Japanese aggression.
"You must use Chinese to fight Japan or do it yourself," he said.
"Now with words or later with bullets."
He pointed out how the Versailles conference led to war and said that the delegation that was going to Washington from China did not represent the south and he would not recognize any agreements made by them. He had not been asked to participate in the conference. He pictured Peking as filled with traitors and the government there as an under the thumb of Japan.
This is hardly a good basis upon which to build a new understanding about China.

China will not be "liberated," but will be kept open and developed because the nations need her market and her vast stores of raw materials. It is a question of approach.
Diplomatically speaking, the America and Great Britain "permit" Japan to carry out her well laid and partially developed expansion in Manchuria, Mongolia, Siberia, and the old middle kingdom, or try to drive her back to a new start with favors equalized?

Open Door a Dangerous Game.
In reaffirming the traditional American policy of the open door and territorial integrity for China, and in announcing that the American flag would follow American business in the Orient and that the American merchant marine would compete for trade in all seas, President Harding and the administration spokesmen have let themselves loose upon the dangerous game which the people should understand. We have been drifting in a vague way with vague phrases and the drift has been toward war.
Japan has been drifting but is staying by plan.

In seeking the new expansion of American business in the Orient we are coming into conflict with the Japanese objection that we must be given the right to the Pacific trade. They consider it a matter of life or death for Japan as a first rate power.

From Shantung to Eastern Siberia Japan can find everything to realize her ambitions.
Japan Means to Hold On.
She appears to be determined to hold on to the 750,000 square miles of land and the 1,000,000 miles of sea that she has acquired in one year or another since the Japanese-Russian war of 1905. The Japanese point of view is that America is the chief obstructive power to her policy and that for America to succeed means suicide for Japan.

Japan's game with the coast of all Asia and at her door lie inexhaustible and uncharted natural resources, an undeveloped market, the greatest in the world, and an endless supply of docile, cheap labor. In an even competition she might not be able to get what she considers necessary for national safety. So the cards are stacked for her in the Pacific.
It is thought by some observers that to yield would be as dangerous as to stand firm for a new deal, for there is the possibility of the absorption and mili-tarization of China and endless trouble for the next generation.

Dubuque, Iowa, became the bride of Thomas Hughes Claffy, formerly of South Carolina, now of this city.
The ceremony, which took place at 9 o'clock, was followed by a reception at the home of Mrs. Charles Homer Berkeley. The altar was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, ferns and white chrysanthemums. Selections from Lohengrin and other musical numbers were rendered by the choir during the ceremony.

The bride wore her traveling suit of navy blue velvet with hat to match. Her corsage was of white roses and lilies of the valley. The attendants were Miss Thecla Huelshoff, also of Dubuque, and Joseph T. Halpin, brother of the bride.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Homer Berkeley. The color scheme

THE PUBLIC IS UNCONSCIOUS

of the fact that the cost of our shows this season ranges from 100% to 300% over that of any previous season, and of the surprises to come

of the fact that no other shows ever included artists that heretofore cost $2.00 admission prices to enjoy until they appeared here

of the expenditure it requires to include the $2.00 artists in these programs added to our photoplays, which cost from 100% to 300% more

that in addition to a larger orchestra our playhouse provides conveniences and beauty for their complete comfort at 40 and 55 cents—it's a big idea

of having been offered such a rare combination at any other playhouse at any other time, so it is not necessary to mention the name Rialto
